NATURE CRAFT

There are several reasons you might choose to feed birds in winter:

- to provide them with extra calories when food sources are limited or depleted
- access to extra nutrients gives birds the chance for a more successful mating season come springtime
- everyone needs food to stay warm, including predators (even cats) that may have a diet including the occasional bird – give birds the energy they need to be able to fly away

Make your own bird seed ornament! All supplies provided.

WILD GAME COOKING

Learning how to prepare meat from your own harvest is a real treat! Join our chef as we cover a simple recipe for your family using wild game. By choosing wild game, you reduce your carbon footprint!

SMALL WATERCRAFT HANDLING

If you're new to the world of fishing, you may be overwhelmed by all the different types of gear and accessories available, all the way down to the motors. One of the most popular motors for fishing is a trolling motor, which is designed to provide slow and steady propulsion from one fishing location to another. In this class we will introduce you to the basics of handling a trolling motor.

PREDATOR CONTROL AND GAME CAMERAS

Follow along as we learn the importance of predator control and how it can impact prey numbers and habitat. You will be hands on learning how to set a snare and check the snares the next morning. Trail cameras play into effect when you are observing your land for predators and prey.

FISHING

After learning how to handle a trolling motor, head out to water and catch some fish! Fishing poles and night crawlers will be available.

OPTICS

Mounting your scope correctly is incredibly important. If your scope and your rifle are not pointing in the same direction, even the best scope in the world won't be much use. This causes many new gunowners to hire a professional gunsmith for mounting, but if you follow along in this class, there's no reason you won't be able to mount your scope and site in your rifle on your own!

ARCHERY

Archery is not just for hunters! While bow hunting is very popular, people all over the world shoot arrows recreationally or for competition. The sport has evolved from its traditional combat identity of prehistoric and ancient times to a common past time.
